Mrs. Fred Marshall Has Appreciative Letter From Sicily

More evidence of appreciation by people in foreign lands of clothes received from people in this country, has reached Canyon. Mrs. Fred Marshall received a letter this week from a boy in Sicily. It was written in English. The letter read:

"Dear Mrs. Marshall: I'm writing you this letter to thank you for the present which you sent to Italy and of which I have benefited. I'm a young University civilian of 24 years old and good Christian. I have a great desire to be interested with some American, to know much news about this over-sea land and its inhabitants and logically, specially about you and your family and I should like to receive also some your photograph if you please. You'll answer to this my letter, I'll be very glad and I'll answer giving you much news about my person and my country if you desire that. I still do not master English language rather I beg your pardon if this letter is not correct and if its turn is very simply. Hoping in your ready answer, I dearly salute you God bless you and keep you ever, Your friend, Leo Martorana."

The address of the young Italian boy is Leopoldo Martorana, Via Palagonia All'altoro, No. 10 Presso Urbano, PALERMO, Sicily).

Preceding the meeting there will be an executive committee meeting at 3 o'clock in the office of Miss Elva Fronabarger.

Many thanks go to teachers, mothers and everyone who helped put over the Halloween carnival, which was sponsored by the PTA. The Carnival was a big success and approximately $1100 was made from the Carnival.

The Home That "Jack" Built

Three Buildings Are Approved on the W. T. Campus

West Texas State will receive three additional buildings from the Federal Works Agency, according to telegrams received Tuesday.

One of the buildings will be a classroom for veterans, with office facilities, furniture and equipment. Another will be an Arts and Crafts building with facilities, furniture and equipment which may be required for instruction in this line of work.

The third will be a warehouse.

President J. A. Hill states that the government will move the buildings to the campus, put them in first class condition, and these will be a gift to the institution. The college is required to furnish an architect, and to make connections for the utilities. He does not know from which camp these buildings will come, as there are several army camps in this territory. The buildings will be of great service in relieving the crowded conditions which now exist on the campus.

Mrs. Dowd Receives Letter From Italian Family

People of Canyon who sent clothes and other articles to Europe through UNRA, have been most pleased to learn that these articles reached the people who needed them.

A letter from an Italian family was received recently by Mrs. J. C. Dowd. This is the second letter which has come from Italy that has been brought to the attention of the News. Mrs. Dowd's letter was from Banri Alberto, Rampar di Piangipane 8F, Ferrara, Italia, and he says: "Having recently received your gift through the UNRA which was very welcome and which was needed, I turn again to your generosity hoping that you grant me the favor of sending me a second gift by the C. A. R. E., my family being numerous and without work. I will be again grateful if you grant me my prayer and I shall be infinitely thankful. Sending you a special greeting,—Banri Alberto."

The letter was written in Italian and Mrs. Dowd took it to the foreign language department of the college to have it translated.

Rapid Development of the Panhandle Subject of Rotary

T. W. Gilstrap, manager of the Southwestern Public Service Co. in Amarillo spoke at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday. He was introduced by Gordon Lyons.

Mr. Gilstrap traced the rapid development of the Panhandle. It is the only section of the nation which has shown consistent improvement during the past decades. Developments have centered on railroads, the automobile, oil development, and improved agriculture. The farmers have made a great contribution to the development of the Panhandle.

The utility company has tried to keep ahead of this development. It plans for two to seven years ahead, but has not always been able to maintain its pace due to shortages. It is now planning to double its capacity in order to take care of future developments.

Visitors were: Geo. M. Waddill, Ted Neely, E. Jobe, Horace Griggs, Morris S. Johnson, Forrest Barnes, C. R. Janak, Cecil Hunter, Arch Hunsley, E. Kancher, all of Amarillo.

'Difficulties Can Be Overcome'

Republicans Sweep Nation Tuesday As the Party Takes Control Both Houses Congress; Texas Democratic

The nation was swept by the Republicans in Tuesday's election, as a protest vote against the New Deal practices.

According to the report of Wednesday morning the Republicans will control both the House and the Senate. However, late returns may make it possible for the Democrats to hold control in the Senate. National observers say, however, that this is very unlikely.

With the Republicans in charge of both branches of the legislature, President Truman's hands will be tied. The Republicans are expected to go along with the President on foreign policies, but are expected to radically overrule the administration on domestic problems.

Texas went Democratic, as usual. All candidates on the Democratic tickets won by large majorities over the Republican ticket.

In the Panhandle Congressman Eugene Worley won over Republican Frank T. O'Brien by a 3 to 1 majority.

All proposed amendments to the constitution were approved by the voters.

Due to the rain and bad roads only two reports outside of Canyon were received here Tuesday night. Other returns came in Wednesday.

Local excitement was caused in Precinct No. 2 when a write-in campaign was staged by John Schoenberger in an effort to defeat County Commissioner Clarence Beckman. Mr. Beckman was unaware of the campaign until late Monday. As a result of the campaign this precinct cast a larger vote than was cast in the July primary. This record is very unusual and shows great interest on the part of the voters because of the bad roads which made travel in the precinct very hard. Beckman carried the Umbarger box 71 to 26; and the Jewell box 34 to 12. No report had been received from Highland at press time.

Vote Thursday

Texas voters will go to the polls again Thursday to vote on the "300,000 Bust" amendment as submitted by the legislature. This amendment would set up a $25,000,000 fund to buy land for veterans. There is much opposition to this amendment, but owing to the light vote that will be cast there is no prediction as to its fate.

Former Citizen on Search of Pioneer Friends in County

R. W. Pope of Detroit was here Thursday looking up pioneers whom he knew when his family lived in Randall county from 1889 to 1896. The family lived eight miles north of Canyon. When they decided to move, they drove a covered wagon to Greenville.

Mr. Pope recalled the names of many of the pioneers of the county at that time, and related many experiences of the early days.

His bond is for $275, payable without interest in five years from the date of his discharge in October, 1945. He received $13.90 in cash to make up the difference between the value of the bond and his actual terminal pay.

Cole has been a student in W. T. since January.

No Action on Armistice Day Closing Taken

Whether or not business houses in Canyon will close for Armistice Day on Monday still remained the unanswered question at noon Wednesday. No one had taken any steps to ask for closing for the day.

The schools will operate as usual, both the College and the public schools.

There will be no program in Canyon during the day.

The annual Armistice Day breakfast will be held Monday morning at the Legion Hall. All school children will be served breakfast before 8 o'clock in order that they reach the schools on time.

All members of the Legion and members of their families are invited to attend the breakfast.

Nine Girl Scout Troops are again active in Canyon. At the Canyon Public Schools, the leaders for the Troops are Mrs. L. K. Bolton, 3rd grade group; Mrs. Lloyd McAtee, 6th grade group; Mrs. F. M. Hacker, 4th grade group; Mrs. J. E. McGehee, 5th grade group from both schools; Mrs. Dan Usery, 8th grade group. At the W. T. Barker, secretary; Mr. D. K. McGehee, financial chairman; Miss Ruth Lowe, organization chairman; and Miss Mary Orton, training chairman.

Editorials

The News has been selected as one of 25 weeklies to be placed in the library of the University of Texas School of Journalism. Dr. Paul Thompson, director of the School of Journalism, states that The News and the other weekly newspapers will be used by the student of journalism in their daily class work. According to Dr. Thompson, The News was selected because we have a good editorial page. We disclaim any degree of "goodness" about these editorials, but we always feel puffed up when this page is complimented. The thoughts expressed here are those of a Newsman who is trying to see the affairs of the community, state and nation in an unbiased light. Sometime we are right, and sometimes we are wrong. We believe that an editorial page is very necessary for any newspaper, regardless of its size. During the past 36 years we have published nearly 2,000 editions of The News. During that time the Newsman has seldom failed to have editorial comments on the questions of the day. So many readers have expressed their appreciation of these utterances that we are convinced that the time has not been wasted in gathering material for these paragraphs. Some weeks they come without effort; and some weeks it is a struggle to get material that we are not ashamed of. We hope that the students down Austin way will appreciate this page, as they do other pages of The News.

The Newsman seldom supported James E. Ferguson while he was predominant in Texas. But in later years when we learned him by close observation, while a member of the legislature, we greatly admired his clear foresight in state affairs. His opinions were greatly sought by members of the legislature. He could see through a bill which was pending in the legislature, and could discuss its merits and demerits in a clear forceful manner. His daughter has now published a book on the Fergusons. While we are not attempting to sell this book through this column, we believe that every Texan should read the life of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ferguson, the two Governors of Texas. An eminent historian who visited Texas several years ago to make a study of the Fergusons is credited with the following statement: "When the prejudices of the time are forgotten, and the real Ferguson is presented, Jim Ferguson will stand out as one of the greatest characters ever produced in Texas. His love for money was his greatest weakness." At least all of us should know more about the characters of the men and women who served us in a public manner.

Those who have watched the improved Buffalo football team of recent weeks are highly pleased with the recent shake-up which has occurred in the athletic department. On the whole we find the people of Canyon stunned over the fact that drastic steps had to be taken before it was too late. So far we have not found a single individual who does not uphold the Athletic Committee and President Hill in their action. Innocent persons have suffered as a result of this unfortunate episode. The most charitable thing all of us can do is to forget the whole affair and set to work to repair the damage which was brought on, regardless of who started it, or why it was started. Jealousy is called the "green eyed monster" and truly may tear to pieces the results of many, many hard months and years of labor.

The News is not seeking to crown itself with righteousness, but we wish to report that we have just turned down a luscious advertising contract. It came from the liquor interests, and an advertising rate far above that which is charged to local advertisers. It would seem that the liquor interests are becoming a little uneasy. Liquor is being voted out of more and more communities. If there is anything good in booze, we have not yet discovered it. At any rate, The News does not feel justified in carrying advertising which runs contrary to our ideas of good morals and common decency.

Labor leaders of Texas should beware. In the last session of the legislature a drastic anti-labor constitutional amendment was proposed. Sixty members of the House voted against the amendment. These were branded as CIO friends. Probably the accusation was unjust to some extent, as many people do not wish to see the state take an anti-union stand unless it is absolutely forced to do so. It is interesting to note that of the 60 who voted against the amendment, 20 did not run for re-election, and 24 were defeated at the polls. This leaves only a few of the original anti-union legislators to carry on the fight. The amendment will be proposed again in January. There are 83 new members of the House. This makes a clear majority of the 150 who are without legislative experience. Some of these members were elected on an anti-union platform. Some were elected by a strong labor vote. This all adds up to the fact that the people are getting pretty fed up on the numerous strikes, and labor may pay a terrible price for its arrogance.

Petrillo has a new racket. In order to have music at funerals in cities, where he controls musicians, the family of the deceased must pay a standby fee for union musicians, whether the union musicians are used or not. We are very, very grateful that our lot was cast in a small town where people have the right to do rational things without the interference of union racketeers. This racket of Petrillo is the worst form of graft that we have yet seen. Under the petting of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations the labor bosses can do as they please and there is no one to put a stop to their unreasonable demands. Just fancy, if you please, a funeral in Canyon the family of the deceased having to pay tribute to a little fat squab like Petrillo, and there being no one in the whole nation to protect them from this unjustifiable racket!

Was it pure politics which made Truman change his mind about OPA? You will recall that Truman has been defending OPA most vigorously upon every occasion. Yet he ordered that 1,642 price boards be abolished this week, which discharges about 30,000 employees. We still wonder if it is pure politics, or that the President has ascertained that the American people are tired of being bossed by a bunch of scoundrels that know little or nothing about business. We have always believed that the American people have sense enough to run their own affairs, operating under the old, old law of supply and demand. Naturally there will be inequalities while the supply is short, but sooner or later the problems will be straightened out to the satisfaction of all.

We have been reading about Alcohol Anonymous and are truly amazed at the results of this organization. As we understand it, men and women who are afflicted with the disease of alcoholism band together for mutual aid and protection. All of them know the dangers of drink and what it has done to them. This organization works with men and women of ability in each community, persons who want to lead a better life, and to be free from the chains of drink. It is not a religious organization, although church men give it their full support; it is an organization for mutual self-improvement, where those who are under the influence of this terrible disease get together to help each other. More power to the organization. Regardless of how it operates, results are what count.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

AMERICA'S FIRST INDUSTRY

IN 1607—THE YEAR JAMESTOWN WAS FOUNDED—FISHERMEN ON THE KENNEBEC RIVER, MAINE, LAUNCHED THE VIRGINIA—THE FIRST COMMERCIAL VESSEL BUILT IN AMERICA.

AS OUR NATION GREW AND OUR TRADE CONTACTS EXPANDED WE BUILT THE GREAT CLIPPER SHIPS, WHOSE SPEED AND SAILING QUALITIES PUT AMERICA IN THE VAN OF WORLD COMMERCE. WE PIONEERED TOO, IN THE INVENTION AND DEVELOPMENT OF THE STEAMSHIP.

TODAY OUR SHIPS, BUILT IN AMERICA'S SHIPYARDS DURING THE WAR, GIVE US THE GREAT COMMERCIAL TONNAGE NEEDED TO RESTORE THE PEACETIME COMMERCE OF THE WORLD.

Now that the election of 1946 has passed, and the results are about all in, you may get ready for the big push in 1948. Unless political signs fail, 1948 will be the most critical test of the Democratic party. Truman will have to fight to get the nomination; Dewey will largely control the Republican forces and will be in position to dictate the party's leadership; here in Texas a fight will be made to unseat Pappy O'Daniel; and so on down the line. Big things are ahead for those who like to see things happening in a political way. The campaign may not bring out so much interest as the fourth race of Roosevelt, but it should practically equal that campaign.

We see that some British are greatly upset because the Duke of Windsor is not given an adequate public job. Well, the facts are that he was King, and quit; and was then placed in an official position which he resigned. The display of jewels by the Duchess, which led to a well planned robbery, has not added to the popularity of the Duke. Whether the theft was a million dollars, or $80,000, it makes the man of the street wonder at the high price of nobility, and its real worth to a nation.

Churchill and Stalin are at each other again. Stalin promises a lot, but continues to have the iron curtain pulled down. Churchill says that behind that iron curtain the Russians are plotting another war—or at least maintaining an adequate force for another war. By this time Stalin should realize that the United Nations are not going to trust him until he is willing to raise the curtain and give the nations of the world a chance to see Russia as she really is.

No wonder the people are confused. Every day there are a dozen or more news commentators blasting away over the radio, giving their observations and predictions. Then we have a large number of political writers who have daily or weekly columns in the press. These comments may be far from accurate, but they add to the prevailing confusion. But people like it—and read or listen to the things which they want to read or hear.

We see that the new book of Elliott Roosevelt is not being accepted by the members of his own family. There is a family fuss over some of his statements, in which he tries to make it appear that he was the confidant of his father, FDR. Those who have followed the checkered career of young Roosevelt should always take his statements with a grain of salt. To be charitable, we might say that he is given to exaggeration.

Hallowe'en passed in Canyon with little property damage. The fact that every business house around the square had to wash windows was no disgrace. Most of them probably needed washing, anyway. It is only when youngsters destroy property that oldsters wish to abolish Hallowe'en.

You will probably be reading and hearing a lot of explanations this week, coming from political observers who missed the boat with their guesses on Tuesday's election.

Science has made another great stride. For years, everyone in a cafe was at the mercy of any customer who had a nickle; that is to say, when one man put his nickle in the juke box, everybody had to listen to the tune, though it might sound to all the other customers like the one the old cow died to.

But in a coffee shop in Waco, when someone drops in a nickle, the tune is announced and, if you want to hear it, you have to put in a nickle, too. If you don't want to hear it, you just eat your food—if any.

Will Beauford Jester name Sen. James Taylor as his successor on the State Railroad Commission? Both men are from the same county. There are 253 other counties in the State.

If the elderly are having a hard time getting by on an average of 80 cents a day—and they are having a hard time, too—what would their plight be if the ceiling of $35,000,000 had been only about half that—which Taylor tried to make it?

The recent State Democratic convention ignored the Governor-elect's campaign pledge to remove the ceiling and pay the $40 a month in full. In view of the action of the platform makers at San Antonio in giving the old folks the run-around, if the new Governor appoints an arch-enemy of old age pensions to one of the highest offices in the State, then the elderly and their friends—who helped provide a large part of Mr. Jester's big vote in both primaries—might begin to wonder about things in general. Mr. Jester courageously carried the banner of the old folks high during the campaign and they are counting on him.

E. J. Headlee of Denton asked a man from Dimmitt how the name of the town was spelled. He said, "After a good rain, we spell it with an 'i' but if it just won't rain, then we spell it with an 'a'."

Forces of Attraction Hold the Moon "Up" in the Sky....and OIL-PLATE Your Engine!

THE moon isn't really "up" in the sky, but it is held from flying off into space by gravitational attraction between it and the earth.

Exploring the realms of molecular attraction, Conoco chemists have been able to bring America new and better oils. In fact, the force of molecular attraction bonds a special ingredient in Conoco Nth motor oil to working surfaces of your engine. So strong is this attraction that cylinder walls and other parts are OIL-PLATED.

And because molecular attraction holds Conoco OIL-PLATING up where it belongs... prevents it from all draining down to the crankcase, even overnight, you get these benefits:

Deceased Veterans' Family May Draw Social Security

Even though the veteran never had a social security account number card, and even though he never worked on a job covered by the Social Security Act, survivors of any World War II veteran who has died since his discharge may be eligible now for payments under the Social Security Act.

These payments are made possible by a recent amendment to the Social Security Act, according to information received from John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo, Texas Social Security Field Office. He pointed out, however, that the new amendment does not provide any payment to the veteran himself, and that it does not provide for payment to the survivors of men who died before discharge or release from active duty in the armed forces.

The new section of the Act provides for the payment of monthly benefits to qualified survivors of veterans who die within three years after their honorable discharge from service and whose dependents are not qualified to receive compensation or pension from the Veterans' Administration. National Service Life Insurance payments to survivors are not considered as compensation or pension from the Veterans' Administration.

The measure provides for monthly benefits retroactive to the date of the veterans' death if the survivors file their benefit claims with the nearest office of the Social Security Administration on or before midnight February 10, 1947. Claims filed after that date will be retroactive for no more than the usual 3-month period.

Under those provisions, a widow with one child would receive monthly benefits of not less than $39 until the child reached age 18, while a widow with three children would receive $63 a month or more. Lump-sum payments may be made to eligible dependents if the veteran had no children under age 18.

As in the case of all other persons qualified for social security benefits, families of deceased veterans to whom this new section of the law applies should come to the nearest office of the Social Security Administration to file their claims as soon as possible.

Many Chinese Family Trees

Sons Get a Long Mention In Records, Daughters Mostly Ignored.

WASHINGTON. — The Chinese do not worship their ancestors but revere the memory of notable ones, and some of their genealogies go back scores of years, reports the New York Times.

Milton Rubicam, president of the National Genealogical society, writes in China Monthly of a study of 100 Chinese genealogies in the library of congress. The oldest is that of the Pi family of Hsin-an. Published in 17 volumes in 1509, it covers 31 generations dating from A. D. 685.

"In the genealogical portion of the work," Mr. Rubicam writes, "was given the name of each person, his pen-name, degree received from an examination, official titles, dates of birth and death, name of his wife, place of burial, number of sons and names of the sons. Unlike western genealogies, the Pi record did not name the daughters of the family, although especial honor was paid to the women who married into the family and who, by their deportment, showed loyalty to their husbands and to the house of Pi.

Family Regulations.

"The numerous family regulations, which were described in detail, provided that if the wives of the members of the Pi family were of noble extraction their last names and dates of birth should be stated. If the wives' fathers held official positions the fathers' names and offices should be mentioned. But if the wives were not fortunate enough to be descended from noble families they should be mentioned but no further data about them should be supplied.

"The insistence upon moral virtue was carried to an extraordinary degree, according to our western notions.

"The second oldest Chinese genealogy in the library of congress collection was published in 1535. It relates the story of the Wang family for 81 generations, extending back to the Chun-chiu period (about 1091 B. C.)

Among the more modern genealogies consulted at the library by Mr. Rubicam, one concerns the Chang family and was published in eight volumes in 1870. It goes back 25 generations.

"Not the least important features of the Chang genealogy," Dr. Rubicam says, "are the discussions of the clan and family doctrines, so important for the welfare and the happiness of the individual and his immediate circle of friends and relatives. The 12 clan doctrines may be briefly summarized as follows:

Clan Doctrines.

- "1. Respect toward ancestors. Ancestors should be respected in a very humble manner.
- "2. Respect toward parents. The utmost care must be taken of one's parents, who should be provided with food and clothing and whose house must be kept in repair.
- "3. Relations between husband and wife. Everything must be in harmony.
- "4. Relations between brothers. Brothers should be affectionate toward each other and they should not permit their fraternal feelings to be disrupted by their wives or their friends.
- "5. Training of sons. Morality is of primary importance.
- "6. Selection of friends. Do not select friends who are interested only in drinking and eating. One should be willing to assist one's friends in time of distress.
- "7. Marriage rules. One should be careful to choose a wife from a good, moral family.
- "8. Relations of the family to society. Private affairs must not be made known to the public.
- "9. Sobriety. Do not drink or gamble.
- "10. Avoidance of lawsuits. Do not become involved in court actions.
- "11. Industry. One must have an occupation.
- "12. Personal relations with other people. One must not commit acts harmful to other people. Do not become greedy for property. Do not commit adultery."

Famous 'Fighting Lady' Is Placed in 'Mothballs'

We'll wager that the term "flew the coop" originated with a hen-pecked husband.

Flu Is Reported On the Increase Over State Texas

Reports coming in from various sections of the State indicate that the number of influenza cases appears to be increasing with the advance of the fall season, and during the past week 930 cases were reported in Texas.

Commenting on this situation today, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said that most of these cases are mild and lend themselves to treatment readily. He pointed out that two cooperative factors are essential to victims of this disease: first, to call the family physician promptly when suspicious symptoms appear; and second, to take it easy for a reasonable length of time after the acute stage has subsided.

"It is essential to realize that influenza, no matter how mild the attack, calls for a period of convalescence, because serious complications can occur if this important fact is ignored," Dr. Cox said. "In-

HSU Musicians Host To Band

Abilene, Nov. 3.—The largest and most colorful marching demonstration to be witnessed in West Texas since the war, will be presented to spectators of the Hardin-Simmons-West Texas State football game, to be played in Abilene's Fair Park stadium Friday night, November 8.

More than 160 members of the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy and Cowgirls bands and the West Texas State college Buffalo band will participate in the gala performance. According to Marion B. McClure, director of the H-SU bands, the show will be an outstanding display of colorful high-stepping maneuvers, carried out to the rhythm of spirited martial music.

In addition to the musical groups 51 cowboy boosters, the Cowgirls, will participate in the performance, giving a display of fancy and trick roping, plus Will Watson, sheriff of the Cowboy band and five coeds leading the parade on the university's celebrated six white horses.

The combined H-SU bands have 86 members. The Cowboy band is in the lead with 45, of which 10 are pre-war veteran members. The girls follow in membership with 41.

Approximately 75 members of the West Texas State band will attend the game, according to M. J. Newman, director of the Buffalo band.

This will be the Cowboy band's first post-war between halves performance in Abilene, and the first marching appearance of the Cowgirl band in the history of the organization. Before the war the girls did concert work only.

The Buffalo band will arrive in Abilene at 5 o'clock Friday, and will be escorted through the campus by special representatives of the H-SU bands. Shortly after their arrival the West Texas musicians will be served dinner in the H-SU cafeteria.

CHIC LANE nodded approvingly as Dixie Lee, with a flourish of the baton, brought to a close the soft music of her Dixie Belles. "The sweetest band that ever lipped a mouthpiece," Chic boomed enthusiastically. "It's big-time swing and I'm the lad who'll put you there to swing it."

Dixie's eyes narrowed as she pushed back a refractory blonde curl, studied the angelic grin that creased the boyishly blunt features of her press agent and asked "When?"

Chic drew a deep breath and explained that radio advertising executives were auditioning musical and novelty acts for Fall programs. "A publicity push and you're in," he bubbled confidently. "Headlines like 'Orchestra Leader Elopes With Press Agent.'"

Dixie's eyes spanked Chic's enthusiasm. "What a perfectly gruesome way to fame," she drawled sweetly.

An hour later, in the oriental atmosphere of the Golden Cat Tea Room, a deflated Chic stared sourly at the leaves in the bottom of his teacup. A turbaned figure moved to his side. By courtesy of the management, he, the Maharajah of Panio, Prince Rahee, would gaze into the future. Chic, with a dejected wave of limp fingers, dismissed the prince.

Suddenly the fingers stiffened, wagged, and the prince flowed back. Chic talked. A dollar a day to the potentate to be temporarily, and or publicity purposes, engaged to Dixie Lee. His imperial majesty, in throaty tones—accent Brooklyn—accepted.

Chic, armed with pictures and a cherubic expression of unworldly innocence, invaded the editorial rooms of the Daily Journal. City Editor Wolfe Barton looked up and scowled.

Mournfully Chic admitted, before reformation, having slightly exaggerated the facts of a story or two but now, in truthful and humble atonement, he was offering a scoop. "And, Wolfe," he coaxed, "think of the headlines. 'Maharajah Lays Heart and Fortune at American Beauty's Feet.'"

Wolfe thought and licked his lips. "Because I'm a sucker," he finally snapped, "I'll print the tale. But if this is one of your gags—and I find it out—brother, you'd better leave town!"

In the following days Chic dwelt in a press agent's paradise. He bathed in a shower of desirable publicity and basked in the sunshine of Dixie's smiles. He coyly toyed with tempting contracts and allowed the belles to audition for two of the best.

Then his majesty became mercenary. Royalty, he'd decided, should not work for a miserable pittance. He demanded a double fee. In Dixie's apartment Chic prepared matrimonial suggestions. The telephone jangled and Chic lifted the handset. He listened and paled. Wolfe Barton in no uncertain terms demanded Chic's immediate presence at the Journal.

Wolfe was baying at a copy boy as Chic slipped up to the desk. Wolfe whirled. "That prince of yours is a phony!" he howled. "Came in offering his history and your story for fifty bucks. Well, chum, your story I'm buying and printing. I'll have you and that band laughed out of town!"

Chic folded into a chair. "Wolfe," he begged tearfully, "think of Dixie and her belles!"

"May they toll for you," Wolfe growled heartlessly. "But," he added slowly, "there might be a way."

Chic gulped, wiggled and sputtered. "Whatever it is, I'll do it!" Wolfe explained that he'd thought of some headlines himself. "Dixie Lee Jilts Royalty. Marries Press Agent" would, he declared, make very nice reading. Also, he'd fix the sheik and serve as best man at the ceremony. What did Chic think?

So an hour later, perched on Dixie's divan, Chic poured out the tale of the barricades that lay on the road to fame. "Don't worry," he cheerily told Dixie, "we'll still fool that newshound. I know a ham actor who'll play parson for five dollars. Boy, am I clever!" He called the actor, then dialed Wolfe. Arrangements were complete for nine a. m. the next day.

In the morning Chic pushed into Dixie's apartment. The actor, properly garbed, had arrived. Between gowned Dixie, Chic gave last minute instructions. Then, in answer to the bell, Chic swung open the door. Two men walked in. Wolfe, and the man he introduced to the bug-eyed Chic as the Reverend Hapenworth. "I'm furnishing the license and minister," Wolfe announced. "Of course, pal," he eyed Chic and his actor narrowly. "I didn't think you'd run in a ringer."

Chic wobbled into the kitchen and leaned weakly against the door jamb. The sound of a soft feminine laugh filtered into the room and he peeked into the parlor. Dixie, standing close to Wolfe, was smiling at the parson. "It's a terrible shock to the poor darling," she whispered to Wolfe. "I hated to call you, but I simply couldn't stand a fake wedding." She kissed Wolfe's lean cheek. "And unless I finished this business quickly, he might have had me marrying the garbage man tomorrow."

Jascha Helfetz began playing the violin when he was three years of age.

Hijacking Costs Nation Billions

Bandits Growing Bolder as Goods Shortages Make Loot More Salable.

NEW YORK. — Highway bandits are cashing in on the public's impatience for hard-to-get items by looting trucks of everything from textiles to ice cream. "Anything and everything, except maybe sewer pipe, is being hijacked today," says a representative of trucking interests.

Police, insurance and truck association officials say that the last few months have seen a sizable increase in the frequency, value and daring of such robberies. The main centers of trouble are New York, Chicago and Philadelphia.

Accurate reports are difficult to obtain because Federal Bureau of Investigation does not catalogue separately truck and other shipment thefts, and the insurance firms providing coverage still are pretty much in a period of rugged individualism. An analysis recently compiled by Babaco Alarm Systems company of New York, which has become a quasi-official information center, reported 300 truck thefts with a total merchandise value of $2,500,000 and estimated that this figure was only 10 per cent of the nation-wide take in the last year.

Quick Market for Loot.

It was pointed out that because of the shortages of most civilian goods stolen merchandise has a ready market.

The main technique of grabbing shipments is not the hijack where-in blazing guns halt a speeding truck on a rural road, but the more stealthy "jump." Jack Seide, president of Babaco, estimates that 85 per cent of the losses result from the "jump" and figures that 99 per cent of the crimes are committed in urban centers.

The "jump" consists of seizing a vehicle when it has stopped preparatory to unloading or when parked overnight, driving it off to a rendezvous, rifling the contents and abandoning it.

Textile shippers are the principal victims of truck thefts and hijackings. Value of such cargoes is about 39 per cent of the total for the last year, with liquor shipments next, then clothing and tobacco products. Furs also are a favored target, and food, yarns, unfinished piece goods, tires and phonograph records are getting plenty of attention.

Not Well Protected.

Police Chief Fred A. Roff of Morristown, N. J., president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, declared recently:

"The upsurge in crime could not attain its present proportions if the goods being stolen were better protected. And that is something beyond our control. We can enter the picture only after the loss is incurred. Prior to that, the situation is entirely in your hands—and you can do much, if you will, to meet this situation and prevent many of these losses."

Increasing attention is being focussed on lock-up and alarm devices for the trucks. In one 1946 alarm system, elaborate electrical devices, booby-trapped in possibly a dozen spots, stall the truck's motor and let loose a high-powered banasher siren which can wail for hours. The jammed engine prevents moving the vehicle, but it is the noise that gets the lion's share of the credit.

11 Years on Liquid Diet, Boy, 13, Dies in Home

GLENNFORD, OHIO. — Byron E. Hetrick, 13, who existed the last 11 years on a liquid diet after he lapsed into a coma at the age of two, died at his home here without regaining consciousness.

The youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd G. Hetrick, said he was stricken with "sleeping sickness" in 1935 as he suffered from whooping cough and pneumonia.

Bronchial pneumonia was given by physicians as the cause of the boy's death.

United States Soldier Kills Red Border Guard

HEIDELBERG. — An American soldier shot and killed a Russian sentry on the American-Soviet zonal border in Germany after the Russian bayoneted a German woman on the United States side of the line, the Third army provost marshal announced.

The announcement said United States and Soviet authorities had determined that the American constabulary trooper "fired in self-defense" when the Russian charged him with a fixed bayonet.

Eighteen-Year-Old Tar Marries Chum's Mother

The Western Trail

By COL. JACK POTTER
Clayton, New Mexico

Trail Driver, Statesman, Storyteller and Author of "Lead Steer" and other Southwestern books

Of the three great trails along which longhorn cattle were pointed out of Texas to markets a thousand to two thousand miles away, the Western Trail came into existence last. The shifting settlements of Texas and Kansas were pushing the drivers west, Indians were being pushed back east to reservations in present Oklahoma, and ranchmen in need of herds were taking the ranges that they and the buffalo had left.

The Western Trail, sometimes called the Fort Griffin and Dodge City Trail because its herds touched at those two points on the frontiers of Texas and Kansas, was laid out in 1876. The earlier Texas Trail, that merged with the Chisholm Trail in Oklahoma, was giving too much trouble to the nestors along its course. Cowmen in South Texas came up by San Antonio and out through the Hill Country, where we were ranching, prospecting a course and figuring on a right of way. They got it.

In the late seventies we were driving tens of thousands of longhorn cattle up this trail from the great breeding grounds of Texas. With a crew of cowboys, a cook and a horse wrangler to handle our remuda, we poked along some ten to twelve miles a day, with the thousands of longhorns always headed, every step of the way, straight towards Dodge City, notorious "cowboy capital of the world."

We forgot our worries in the rip-sporting village of Fort Griffin, and refilled our chuck wagon with frioles, bacon and dried fruit at Dean's Store, on Red River. We bargained for peace with the Comanche Indians as we crossed Indian Territory with a generous gift of our bosses' beavers. We swam the Canadian in flood, crossed the hot dry sands of the Cimarron, and washed our woes away when we "belled up" to the bars in Dodge. From there we drove the herds that stocked the West all the way from the Black Hills of the Dakotas to the headwaters of the Missouri. We settled half a world without knowing it, and we had a barrel of fun.

But the settlers and barbed wire caught us. They closed Kansas to these wild longhorns and the wilder boys who drove them by rigid quarantine. Within about ten years the Western Trail was done. Already, in the late eighties, we could tell that the country was getting crowded, and we packed our beds, and cut our mounts, and drifted farther west, where at least we still had room to bend our elbows and "blow" about the wonders of the Western Trail.

Santa Fe

..that's the System!

One shipper tells another: the way to get better on-time delivery of freight shipments to and from the West and Southwest is to ship Santa Fe.

Here are some of the reasons Santa Fe keeps freight service "on the advertised" (which is railroad language for "on-time performance"):

- ... world's largest fleet of freight diesel locomotives.
- ... more miles of double track than any other western road.
- ... more miles of Centralized Traffic Control, which enables freight trains to meet and pass non-stop.
- ... world's largest private telephone system, to keep shipments moving more swiftly.
- ... increased yard capacity, and improvements along the line, such as curve straightening, new bridges, longer sidings.

It all adds up to getting what you want where and when you want it, when you ship Santa Fe.

Ship Santa Fe all the way

Bullard-Clark Vows Read at Littlefield

Nuptial vows were solemnized Saturday evening, November 2 at 8 o'clock for Ivan Bullard and Nell Clark. The vows were spoken in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Odell Matthews in Littlefield. Mr. Matthews is a brother of the bride.

Rev. E. A. Mears, pastor of the Missionary Baptist Church, read the impressive single-ring ceremony. Arrangements of white chrysanthemums, white snapdragons and fern flanked by candelabra bearing lighted candles decorated the improvised altar.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Odell Matthews, who wore an aqua dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Many Thanks

I wish to express my very deep appreciation to the voters of Precinct No. 2 for going to the polls on Tuesday and re-electing me as your County Commissioner.

The support of my friends is highly appreciated in view of the very bad weather and bad roads which prevailed on Tuesday. Many of you made a real sacrifice in going to the polls. I shall try to repay you by making you a better County Commissioner during the coming term of office.

Teachers Launch Statewide Fight For Higher Pay

Public school teachers of Texas are rallying to the call of the Texas Teachers Welfare Association, Inc., determined to wage a valiant fight for the right of teachers to earn a decent salary, and for proper recognition of the service they render in directing the education of Texas youth.

Plans are being made now for the annual meeting of this militant organization in December, at which new officers will be elected to direct the activities of the association. These include a membership campaign to enlist support of every teacher in Texas, a statewide educational campaign to inform the public of the grave crisis now faced by the school system, and sponsorship of legislation before the Legislature for increase in the pay of teachers.

Founders of the Republic of Texas made liberal provisions for a great public school system, but succeeding generations have not met their responsibility fully in maintaining this great public educational system. Dr. Joe P. Harris, Dallas County Superintendent, Secretary-Treasurer of the association, said.

The American Council of Education ranks Texas 33rd among the States in per capita expenditure based on average daily attendance; 31st in expenditure per class room unit.

Dr. Harris said the Rural School Aid Law, which provides State funds to help poorer rural districts, should be amended. This law fixes ceilings on pay of teachers in Rural Aid Schools, starting at $1,215, with increase each year of $14.50. Maximum salary for teachers with degrees is $1,431.

These salaries may have been adequate when the law was passed, but they are far too low now, Dr. Harris said. The Texas Teachers Welfare Association will sponsor legislation to raise the pay of teachers.

New Ships - New Faces - But Bad Weather

Low visibility and general bad weather, kept all the Sunday pilots on the ground this past week-end. As last Saturday was a perfect day for flying, many of the fledgling pilots are ready to sprout their wings and take off into the "wild blue" all alone, just as soon as the Student Permits are returned by CAA. Russell Jones and Chuck McElroy are ready to take their Privates as soon as they and the Inspector can get together.

We were hoping to get out this past week-end for a ride in the new SWIFT so as to give you a report on the ship, but bad weather knocked that in the head and the ride will have to wait. From everyone we've talked to, however, the SWIFT is the answer to the Private pilot's dream. What with range, maneuverability, sturdy, well built and inexpensive to operate, there are going to be lots of people buying the SWIFT for their own personal uses.

George Cox is also getting a new Bellanca Crusair this week. Toni Brown went to Newcastle, Delaware last week to pick it up and ferry it back here. This ship is practically the same as the other Bellanca that was at Canyon Aviation, except this model is supposed to be sound proof and have a few other added attractions.

Ground school classes for all non-college veterans are starting this week, according to Hildon Lindsey. Contact him at the airport as to time and place, and if you're interested in flying under the GI Bill, then start these ground school classes right away. The phone number of the airport is 9004F3.

HOT PILOTS

It is unfortunate that a few hot pilots can give aviation so many black eyes! Everybody wants to get into the act, and show off just a little more than the other person. Then someone ends up six feet under and the general public sighs and vows he'll never set foot in an airplane, never realizing in all probability that the pilot brought it on himself. Even at that in comparison to the automobile wrecks and people killed in them, the number is very small. But then people are used to automobiles, and maybe in ten more years or so they'll get used to these "flying machines" just like they got used to the "horseless carriages."

Then too, when the Civil Aeronautics Authority investigates an accident it takes so long that by the time the cause is announced, people have forgotten the incident. This was very much the case of the accident which happened here about two and a half weeks ago.

And the badly wrecked plane just across the highway from the airport certainly wasn't a pleasant sight and definitely not good "advertising" for the airport. But no one could move the plane until it was thoroughly investigated by CAA, and by that time it was picked clean as a skeleton by souvenir hunting spectators.

THERE ARE TWO SIDES

There has been lots of editorial comment on the TWA pilots strike. And since it has come right along after so many unpleasant strikes, there has been lots of disgust about it. The public has been told that the airline pilots have asked for $15,300 a year for pilots flying 20 hours a week in four-engine planes. Protests are pouring in from the pilots headquarters which say "it isn't so!" They say they are asking for a scale which would, if flying conditions were perfect for a year, allow $14,244. They very rightly point out that pilots, (unlike other jobs), are not able to fly all the time. Most people don't realize that they spend as much time waiting out weather or repairs on planes as they do in the air, and they are only paid for TIME IN THE AIR. Although there is nothing they can do about bad weather, nevertheless, they're not paid for sitting around waiting for it to clear. Furthermore they say that they spend much more than 20 hours a week going to and from the airports and in brushing up on new technical developments. Too many people look upon the airline pilot's job as just a gray train with maybe a little danger involved, when it is much more than that.

The safety of his passengers depend on his spending extra time keeping up on new developments, and a lot of time too. Airline flying is highly specialized and very few pilots can take the strain of airlines flying for a period of 20 or 30 years, such as is expected in other business. So, even though the strike is most inconvenient to many people, there are definitely two sides to the question!

WHY ARE WHEATLAND PLOWS

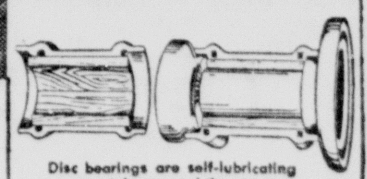

THE MOST POPULAR?

Even the women folks prefer MM Wheatland Disc Plows because there's no criticism of the job done. They simply do the job just right.

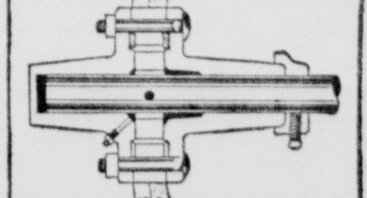

There is an MM Wheatland to enable you to cut the cost of preparing your seed bed as much as 50% over ordinary methods. 26 inch discs and 10 inch spacing between discs give it wide cut and light draft.

• Plows and Discs in ONE OPERATION—yet very light in draft—sower or drill attachment available. • Mises stubble and vines thoroughly with the soil—plows from 3 to 9 inches deep. • Helps prevent air pockets and soil blowing. • Can be used to build terraces the economical way.

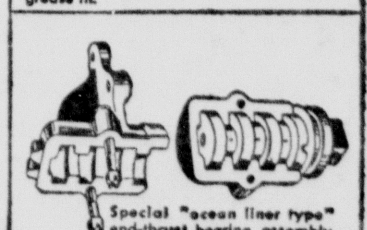

Although the degree of concavity is about the same as in ordinary 20 inch discs, the depth of concavity is 4 inches as compared to only 2 1/4 inches. As a result MM Wheatland Plows turn the soil much better. Extra large discs mean less wear on the disc bearings as discs make fewer revolutions per mile. Discs are specially heat-treated steel, highly polished to scour better. RIGID FRAME: This frame is now famous as the one that won't "twist", "wear", or "give"—thanks to its BRIDGE TRUSSED construction and the extra-heavy-duty casting and steel plates that connect the heavy axles to the rigid frame. Hand and power tillage—See your MM dealer for sizes and when available—they're worth waiting for.

Disc bearings are self-lubricating—take no end-thrust.

Cross section of wheel and axle. End-thrust kept out—grease in.

Special "aceon liner type" end-thrust bearing assembly makes oil seal-brush.

How Japanese Solve Crimes

Suspects Held Incommunicado Until They Confess; No Rights in Court.

TOKYO.—Japan has no unsolved crimes, but there's a reason: A suspect is held incommunicado—even from his lawyer—until he has confessed either voluntarily or under duress.

There is little conception outside these islands of the total absence of individual rights in Japanese court procedure, and of the accused man's complete degradation once he falls under suspicion.

A study of Japanese civil and criminal statutes has been completed by Capt. Anthony J. Maniscalco, former assistant attorney general of Texas.

Maniscalco made the survey in preparation of a "bill of rights" being drawn by the army for possible incorporation in the proposed Japanese constitution.

The Japanese code of criminal procedure and its administrative setup originally were based on the old Napoleonic code. The strict concept of the Japanese family tie was incorporated into this, and the German code of criminal procedure was added later.

Police All-Powerful. Under it the accused had little or no rights such as are deemed fundamental in Anglo-Saxon criminal jurisprudence.

Almost unlimited power is given the police and the public procurator, who roughly corresponds to the American prosecuting attorney.

When the police apprehend any person believed connected with a crime—and laws are so broad that "dangerous thoughts" are sufficient for an arrest—he is incarcerated without the right to see even his family or lawyer.

Eventually, the police obtain a "confession," even though it might (and did, at times) take months. Then the public procurator prepares a formal charge and refers the case to the proper court of law.

An appointed judge presides over a preliminary hearing, conducts all interrogation of the prisoner and witnesses and has the prisoner reiterate his confession. He examines the physical evidence and prepares the record which goes to the trial court.

Call No Witnesses. At the public trial the accused is brought before another appointed judge and, even if he has retained a lawyer, he is not permitted to consult with him.

No witnesses are summoned, as the judge already has familiarized himself with the case, having read the record of the preliminary hearing and the man's "confession."

Defense counsel might request the judge to ask particular questions, which the judge might or might not do, but nobody except the judge and the public procurator may question the accused.

At the end of this so-called public trial the procurator asks for a heavy sentence and the defense counsel formally requests leniency.

That was the system in totalitarian Japan, and will remain so until the new constitution goes into effect. With one exception, however—General MacArthur has prohibited any torture of prisoners in the interim.

Dies in Second Leap From N. Y. Skyscraper

NEW YORK.—It took Charles Vogel two jumps and his last penny to leap to his death from the tower of the Empire State building. But he made it.

Despondent over a heart condition, the 67-year-old hotel elevator operator spent his last $1.20 for a ticket to the 85th-floor observation tower of the world's tallest building.

The platform was crowded with sightseers. Vogel made his way unnoticed to the 34th street side. He took off his coat and draped it neatly over the five-foot ledge. Then he vaulted into space.

Horrified spectators saw Vogel land on the parapet only one floor below. The plunge had broken his legs. He dragged himself painfully over the 30-inch ledge.

Then he plunged 750 feet to the 30th floor setback and became the only man ever to leap twice from the famed skyscraper.

Japanese Phrase Book Help to Allied Troops

TOKYO.—Allied headquarters is issuing a Japanese phrase book to occupation troops which includes the following conversational helps:

"You're very pretty."
"How about a date?"
"Where will I meet you?"
The booklet also includes 14 ways to say good-bye.

Warns That Freight Car Shortage Will Be Worse

WASHINGTON.—Defense Transportation Director J. Monroe Johnson, warning that the freight car shortage will be worse this fall than at any time during the war, called upon freight receivers to arrange for unloading cars on Saturdays.

He said the practice of not unloading on Saturdays and leaving urgently needed cars idle over the week-end caused a bottleneck.

"What would you do if you married a rich woman?"
"Absolutely nothing."

Bakers Donate Chapel Window

Giving $500 to provide one of the memorial windows in the projected chapel, the Baker family is the latest benefactor of the college. Announcements of the decision to buy the window came in a letter to Pres. J. A. Hill from Dr. Bryant O. Baker of Dallas.

Eleven members of the Baker family have been students in West Texas State and their connection with the college dates from its earliest days when John Cleveland Baker enrolled in 1913. He has matriculated at intervals since then and took several courses last summer.

From 1914-1935 Henry Martin Baker, Sr., was the next member of the family to come to Canyon, beginning his connection here in 1914 and attending as late as the summer of 1935.

The third brother to enter was James Obed, who started in 1921 and attended at intervals until he received the B. S. degree in 1925. His wife, the former Vera Box, attended in 1928 and 1929.

He was followed by Bryant Orland, now a Dallas physician, who took his B. S. degree in 1926, and then by John Allen, who was granted the B. A. in 1928. Mrs. John Allen Baker is the former Goldia Brumley, who was enrolled from 1924 to 1926.

Couple Attends Hortense Orlean Baker, B. S. 1931, and her husband, Edwin H. Boedeker, B. A. 1932, were the next members of the group here, after Mary Opal, who attended in 1928 and 1929.

Henry Martin, Jr., took his B. B. A. in 1941, to be followed by Mary Kate Baker Holland, latest of the family who was conferred the B. B. A. in 1944.

A twelfth member of the clan, J. C. Jr., and his wife, also an alumna, had previously made their gift to the chapel and are not included in this group.

Details as to the dedication will be arranged later, according to Dr. Baker, who visited the campus Homecoming Day.

Museum Given Patron's Picture

Mrs. Thomas F. Turner, widow of the late Judge Turner of Amarillo, recently presented his portrait to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and Museum.

Judge Turner was one of the first presidents of the society, contributing freely with his intimate knowledge and influence towards its organization. Through his untiring efforts, the charter for the society was obtained in 1923. The Panhandle Plains Historical Society was organized in 1921 when Judge Turner wrote the constitution and by-laws for it.

Judge Turner is remembered as one of the earliest and most prominent attorneys of this section. His intense interest in the history of the Panhandle, his desire for preserving it, and his devotion to the Old Settlers' Association have influenced the development and growth of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society.

His portrait, an unusually realistic likeness, hangs on the north wall of the museum, directly across the hall from the main entrance.

Shirley Erwin Is Festival Queen

Various Attractions Total
Just Over $1,000 Mark

Totaling approximately $1,000, the 1946 Hallowe'en Carnival of the Canyon Schools last Thursday night surpassed previous records for several past years.

The Queens' booth led all other attractions with $369.40 receipt.

In second place, Bingo, sponsored by the seniors, brought in $88.40.

Grade School booths averaged $40. The best money-getter of them all was the baby show with a return of $57.

Highlighting the activities of the Carnival was crowning of the Queen, Shirley Erwin, seventh grade, candidate, escorted by Bob Ratliff.

Her attendants, with their escorts: Barbara McDougal and Walton Byrd; Ava Dooley and Joe Abbott; Verna Davenport and James Inman; Valeta Haines and Max Belah; Louise Blewett and Orville Havens; flower girls, Janet Taylor and Carolyn Gintin; and crown-bearer, John Winters, preceded her to the platform.

Shirley was crowned by Frances Gooch, Eagle's Tale Editor, who also presented her with a gift, a plastic dresser set.

The following program was enacted for the Queen: duet, "Star Dust" and "The Bells of St. Mary's" by Marian McReynolds and Donna Erwin; piano solo, "Valse Charmante" by Dorothy Neblett; skit by the court jesters, Linda Dooley and Iva Lou Wallen, and piano solo, "Begin the Beguine," by Donna Erwin.

KEEP THAT SPIRIT

Yes, the Eagles play their last game of football Friday, November 8, at 8:00 o'clock at Dumas. Keep that school team spirit and let's all turn out to cheer for our team.

The Eagles have had a wonderful season of football, winning six games and losing one conference tangle and one non-conference battle. Playing the Demons will be another conference tilt and if a victory, the Eagles will still be placed on the District I-A championship list.

We realize that these fine sports deserve more than cheering at a ball game, but if that is all we can give them, well, let's do our best to make our cheers heard next Friday night.

Keep that spirit to encourage the fighting Eagles and go to Dumas to show that you will back them to the limit.

Teachers Attend Group Meeting

Members of Classroom Teachers held their November meeting Tuesday night at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. L. M. Cousins.

Highlighting the program was the report given by Mrs. John Davis concerning the State Leaders Conference which she attended at Waco, October 19.

This year was the first time that Classroom Teachers were asked to be represented at this conference. Leaders from various organizations were present including delegates from the National Education Association, Texas State Teachers Association, American Child Education and Delta Kappa Gamma. The legislative program for education during 1947 was discussed and a brief resume was included in Mrs. Davis' report.

Co-hostesses for the evening were Mrs. A. K. Goodman, Mrs. Dan Usery, and Mrs. R. E. Ball. The next meeting of Classroom Teachers will be held December 3.

The FHA will have a business meeting Thursday night at 7:30. The homemaking girls from WT are invited to come.

Greetings Folks,

Well, I made all the rounds this week without a single bruise, bump, or scratch from anyone and I sure gathered up the scandal, too, with this Hallowe'en Carnival and all.

I was really surprised to see that so many seventh graders had dates at the carnival. I went to one booth and there was Teddie Howell with that handsome Cundiff boy, James. I believe his name is. Before I could turn around twice here came Dorothy McReynolds and Raymond Bennett, Betty Anderson and Harrell Slack, Joyce Payne and Richard Sanders, Nelda Ruthart and Dwain Currie, and Houstene Prichard and Billy Wayne Bonds.

Jeannie Irvine, Bobbie Dick Mickey, Mary Alice Browning, and Wesley Prater seemed to be taking in everything when I last saw them at the carnival. They looked as if they were having a good time.

Letha Harwood was with some new guy at the midnight show. I had never seen before. He wasn't bad looking either.

Elsie Havens and Ridings Sloan tell me they had a good old time at the carnival. I wouldn't doubt that, would you?

Two more interesting couples I saw, that were having a lot of fun, were: Mary Ruth Hill and Donnell Ruthart, Donna Erwin and Harold Martin.

Billy Bonds was seen with Curtis Lehnick at that hair-raising Canyon-Hereford game Saturday night.

These Canyon High girls seem to be falling for the WT boys: Mary Elizabeth Jennings and Jack Cooper, Juanita Avent and L. T. White, June Jennings and Pat Campbell were the couples I noticed in particular.

I was told not to put this in but I might as well, since I have something about everybody else. Frank Heare is really fond of Marian McReynolds. He was seen escorting her to the carnival and then to the show Sunday afternoon.

These new girls sure get around. In a round-about way I heard Sarah Jane Martin is really in the business lately.

Guy Brant, what's this I hear about you and Ann Crawford? You sure must have had a good time in Waco.

That pretty senior candidate for Hallowe'en Queen, Louise Blewett was with Weldon Lindsey Saturday night after the ball game.

Helen Spencer, Jo Carroll Dutton, Othella Pruitt, and Jim Spencer were couples seen at the game Saturday. It seems as if the exes still like our girls, doesn't it?

Bob Ratliff, how do you do it? I saw you with Peggy Jo Bonds at the carnival and then you escorted our Queen Shirley Erwin at the coronation.

Now boys, you dainty little critters—your popularity will be tested. Girls will be boys you know—and Sadie Hawkins week is just the time to prove it. Have fun and get the boys home early.

Sadie Hawkins Week

Hey, Boy! Next week's the time for you to hide out unless you crave some heavy courtin'. Sadie Hawkins will be on the loose from Friday, November 9, to Friday, November 15. Each CHS gal will go after the man of her choice. "It's such fun," they say, "to do the choosing for a change." Of course, in the beginning, Sadie Hawkins was for those females only who couldn't get a man any other way, but it has proved so successful and aroused that possessive attitude so thoroughly that it has become a traditional even in the school.

The last football game of the season will be Friday night at Dumas between the Canyon Eagles and Dumas Demons. If they beat Dumas and Tulla beats Hereford, Canyon will have another game to go because there will be a three way tie between Canyon, Hereford, and Tulla. So far Canyon is out of the race for conference championship. They will start playing basketball next week after the game with Dumas, Friday night.

The girls playing basketball are still going strong and are practicing hard. They haven't played any games with other schools yet, and won't for a while. Most all the girls that started coming out are still out.

The Eagles were in fair shape Friday night after all the things that were going on last week. They played a hard game with the Hereford Whitefaces but lost with a score 24-12. They fought hard to win for CHS but were defeated.

Davenport Takes Football Crown

Verna Davenport, football queen of 1946, was crowned Saturday night before the Eagles met the Hereford Whitefaces.

Dressed in a blue suit, Verna was driven to the center of the field in a new "Willys" jeep by Don Hickman. The jeep was decorated in the school colors, purple and white.

Following the queen, in a 1946 Plymouth, driven by Mrs. C. O. Elkins, were her attendants: Janey Forester, Nancy Ann Nicklaus, Geneva McDougal and Valeta Haines. Each was wearing fall colors with a large white mum corsage on the left shoulder.

Lee Bailey, who escorted the queen, James Inman, Charles Wright, Austell Burrus, and Billy

Rules

Applying to all you gals and guys, the following set of rules is to be followed without exceptions:

Boys should give the girls a chance to ask for dates.

Girls shouldn't corner on one boy's affections.

Deadline for staying out is midnight.

Boys should take the girls in to meet their parents.

Girls should be really sweet to the boy's mother.

Girls must not be a penny-squeezer.

Girls must carry boys a block of candy or some chewing gum on each date.

Girls must cater to boy's taste for entertainment, if he wishes to attend church, just visit with dad or mother, or play dominoes.

Girls must not criticize boy's make-up too severely.

Boys must not be late for dates, and must send the girls home, at a reasonable time.

At the end of the week one of the boys which the girls has been out with during the previous week has to take her out and entertain her.

Abbott met the attendants in the center of the field and escorted them to the side lines.

Co-captains, Billy Abbott and Charles Wright, crowned Verna and presented her with a large bouquet of white mums.

Then the queen and attendants were escorted to a special platform where they viewed the football game.

Grade Notes

David Hawkins entered Mrs. Murrell's second grade last week. Ten new books were added to the library by Mrs. Murrell's room.

Entering Mrs. Goodman's third grade is Gerald Mathis. Gerone Edwards is ill this week. The room sent him a fruit shower and wrote him letters.

Mrs. Usery's third grade participated in a combination birthday and Hallowe'en party, October 30, which began at 2:30 in Mrs. Usery's room and adjourned to Mrs. W. R. New's residence. Billy and Jerry New, ages six and eight, received a number of gifts.

Students Enter Legion Contest

Several students of the Speech and the American History classes will enter the National High School Oratorical Contest sponsored by the American Legion.

The themes of the orations will pertain to the constitution, and will consist of a ten minute prepared oration and a three minute extemporaneous speech.

Students participating in this contest have not decided definitely upon the subjects they will use.

Contestants will first enter a county contest, then a district meet, and after that, a regional contest.

The contestant scoring highest in the opinion of the judges, in the final contest will be awarded a four years' scholarship, and the other finalists will receive substantial scholarships, also.

Wooten Indicates Grade Penalties

In assembly Monday, Superintendent Wooten announced that five points will be deducted from six-weeks grade averages for deliberate absences. No excuse for absenteeism, except in the case of sickness will be accepted without penalties.

If officials see fit, from time to time, students may be excused to see games or other activities which will be judged by authorities to merit missing regular classes, otherwise, no excuses will be issued.

Backing the Eagles to the last ditch, the Pep Leaders lead the assembly in yells pointing toward their last game with the Dumas Demons. Superintendent Wooten urged every student to attend next Friday's game if at all possible.

Mr. M. D. Shepherd operated the movie projector and showed two acts from "MacBeth" since it was being used for the English IV Class.

Guests engaged in a treasure hunt and other games at the New home. Special guests attending were: Carolyn Jackson, Sally Foster, Eugene Abbott, Mrs. D. J. Maynard, Geraldine Small, and Larry Roush.

Classes Arrange Carnival Duties

Gooch Named Pep Leader,
James Riggsby, Alternate

In order to complete the plans for the Hallowe'en Carnival, the six classes of Canyon High had called class meetings Friday, November 1.

Seniors elected Frances Gooch cheer leader after Ridings Sloan submitted his resignation. James Riggsby was elected alternate.

Committees were appointed to work at the carnival and to decorate the booths.

Hales Remembered

The juniors decided to send Betty Hales a pot flower, since she is still in the hospital.

The Blue group that won the magazine sales' contest in the race between the Red and Blues is going to entertain the Reds with a party which will be held in the Gym Wednesday night, November 6.

Sophomores discussed plans for the carnival. Duties were assigned to the ones who were supposed to work Hallowe'en night.

They were also entertained by Don Hickman's singing and Bobby King's playing the guitar.

Freshmen Sell Corsages

Freshmen decided to sell chrysanthemum corsages, and Jo Ann Hicks, Claudine Beavers and Marselette Wilson, were appointed as sales girls.

They were also assigned duties for the carnival and appointed on committees to decorate the booth.

Eighth graders completed plans for obtaining a perfect membership of parents in PTA and final arrangements of carnival affairs.

Seventh graders divided forces to assist Mrs. Weeks and Mrs. Hornstra in operating fortune telling booth.

Canyon Will Play Dumas Demons

Abbott and Bailey Score
With Team-mates Aid

In the first conference set-back of the season, the Hereford Whitefaces, district winners of 1945, stampeded over the Canyon Eagles by a score of 24-12 Saturday night at Buffalo Stadium.

Abbott kicked for Canyon to Worrell of Hereford for the opening play of the game who received on his own 10 yard line and started a tremendous drive which ended in the payoff zone to make the score 6-0 in favor of Hereford within the first minute of the battle. The conversion was unsuccessful with the score 6-0.

Hereford then kicked to the Canyon 10 yard line where Gerald McDuff ran it back 10 yards. Lee Bailey, Charles Wright, and Billy Abbott pushed successfully for a series of gains totaling 25 yards and two first downs. On the fourth down, Wright fumbled and Hereford recovered on the Eagles 42 yard line. Worrell took the ball, on the first down for an end run that left him untouched until he had crossed the goal line. This play gave the Whitefaces a 12-0 lead in the first 8 minutes of the game. The conversion attempt was not good.

Kick Blocked

Late in the quarter Hereford blocked the Eagles' kick on their own 24. Then on the fourth play Worrell made an off-tackle run which scored another six points to tally the score of 18-0 for Hereford. The kick for the extra point was wide, with the quarter ending soon after.

In the second quarter on an attempted pass, Hereford lost the ball when Bailey intercepted on the 25 and surged to the 30. After running only 8 yards on the first three downs, Abbott punted to the opposing 33 yard line. Hereford succeeded in gaining a few yards and returned the kick to Bailey on the 31. With the ball in their possession the Eagles advanced 20 yards in the first three downs. After a 5 yard penalty and a pass ruled complete due to a clipping penalty, and two setbacks were overcome by a 27 yard run by Abbott, a 40 yard run by Bailey gave Canyon its first touchdown. This brought the score up to 18-6 as the attempt for the extra point failed just before the half ended.

Half Begins

In the second half, McDuff received the ball on the Eagles' 37 yard line. On a number of gains the squad reached the Hereford 20, where, after a pass interception, the Whitefaces with three runs brought the pigskin back to the Canyon 15 yard line. Then three plays later, they went over into the end zone raising the score to 24-6.

Eagles Score.

Beginning the fourth quarter, Wright received the kickoff on the 30 yard line and ran to the 40. After gaining three first downs the Eagles drove their opponents back until Abbott in four tries at the line gained 20 yards and scored again for the Eagles' second touchdown. The conversion failed and the score stood 24-12.

In the closing minutes of the game, the Whitefaces, receiving the ball on the kickoff, failed to gain and were forced to kick.

The Eagles, taking over, attempted a pass which was intercepted by Hereford and, with steady gains, was knocking at the Eagles' goal when the final whistle blew, with the score ending 24-12.

The concluding game of the season will be played Friday night on the Dumas gridiron with the Dumas Demons.

West Texas State Team Knocks Over Lumberjacks in 20-0 Win

The brownish-green grass at Buffalo Field was victoriously trod Friday night by an improving West Texas State eleven whose performance brought back faint memories of past great Maroon and White teams. Three touchdowns and two conversions spelled victory for the Thundering Herd as they blanked the favored Lumberjacks from Arizona State 20-0. Blue-and-yellow clad Axemen hacked and chopped at the Buffaloes' line for 60 minutes but failed to fell the Panhandle gridsters. Only by taking to the air lanes did the Frank Brickey boys threaten but their scoring attempt was short lived as the Miller-Men teamed into an almost impregnable aerial defense.

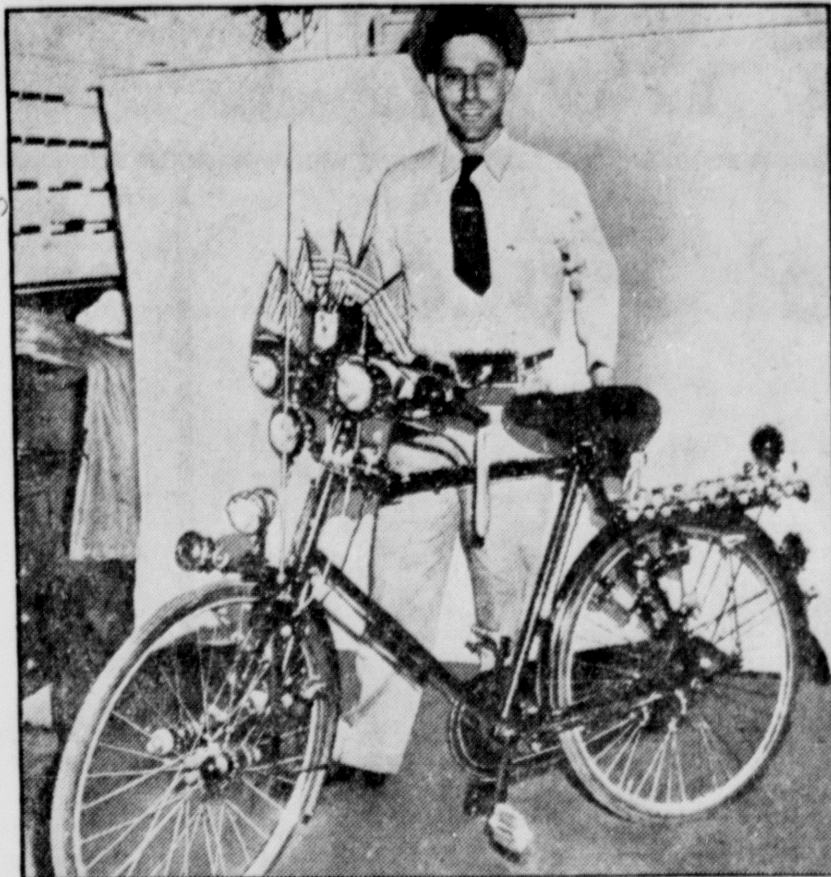

The first score in the Border Conference clash came with one minute remaining in the first period. After the 'Jacks punted out on the Buffalo 44 yard line, Lloyd Johnson wheeled around left end for 20 yards and a first down. Billy Greenfield, hard-hitting Buff full-back, ripped through for 16 more yards and another first. Leroy Reeves and Greenfield combined to move the ball to the Arizona nine yard stripe where Reeves went around right end only to be stopped on the one. Greenfield ploughed through center for the score and Junior Melton made his sixth straight conversion to give the Maroon and White a 7-0 lead.

In the second quarter, the game proved to be a nip-and-tuck affair with neither team being able to move until a bad pass from center prevented Boyd Williams from getting a kick away and he was downed on the West Texas 18. Pumble-ytis cropped up in the ranks of the Lumberjacks and an alert Herdsman pounced on the ball to recover on the 18 yard line again. The first half ended with the ball in mid-field in possession of the Buffaloes.

Midway in the third quarter a stubborn West Texas line refused to yield to the Brickey 'Jacks and the visitors were forced to punt. Versatile Greenfield rushed into the kicker's area and blocked the attempt on the Arizona six. Greenfield took the lead in the Buffalo attack and in two plays crossed the double-line. Meek, methodical Melton came into the game and kicked his seventh extra point in a row. Score West Texas 14-Arizona 0.

Reserves poured onto the field for West Texas in the third and fourth quarters and practically everyone on the Buffalo bench saw action in the contest. With the starting line-up sitting on the sideline, the local team started a fourth quarter drive which resulted in another much-welcomed counter. Weldon Trice, interceptive-eyed center, plucked a Lumberjack heave out of the air on his opponents' 30 and returned to the 15. On the next play, the over-eager Buffaloes fumbled and Cisterna retrieved the pigskin for the visitors. After three plays had failed to garner the needed yardage, the Arizona eleven had to kick.

Bike, $65; Gadgets, $150

Frank A. Batts, chief machinist's mate of the sub tender Howard W. Gilmore, proudly displays what he says is the best-equipped bicycle in the U. S. Navy. He bought the bike, second-hand, for $65 in the Virgin Islands. Then he added $150 worth of gadgets, which includes set of chimes, three bells, 18 lights, five generators, radio, speedometer, compass cyclometer and thermometer for taking temperature of befuddled pedestrians.

Duane Byars, Elvin Lyon and Marvin Bowman swept through to partially block the kick which sailed out on the Lumberjack 28.

With nine minutes remaining in the game, fleet-footed Berl Pruitt cut over the right side of his line and dashed the distance to the goal and crossed standing up.

Melton attempted the conversion but a host of blue-shirted Lumberjacks swarmed in to block the kick. For the remainder of the game, the two teams battled back and forth with no one gaining enough punch for a drive.

The game ended with the Buffaloes leading 20-0.

It was the second straight conference win for the Maroon and White, the third straight win on Buffalo Field and made a record of three wins and one loss since Gus Miller took over the coaching reins.

Abilene Tilt Set For Friday Nite

Hardin-Simmons Trounces Powerful Arizona Eleven For Sixth Straight Win

Boasting the only undefeated and untied team in the Southwest, the high-riding Cowboys of Hardin-Simmons are set to entertain the West Texas State Buffaloes at Abilene Friday night.

The past week saw the Warren Woodson coached eleven keep in the unmarred column and more firmly entrench themselves in first place in the Border Conference when they thundered into the Tucson lair of the Arizona Wildcats and rode off with a 19-8 victory.

The vastly improved Bisons of West Texas State did not let defeatism into their midst either as they sharpened their horns 20-0 at the expense of the Arizona State Lumberjacks.

Hardin-Simmons has put up one of the best defenses in the nation for ground gaining and is ranked tenth place nationally in that division. Only 26 points have been scored against the T-formation-using Cowboys in six games this year.

West Texas State, under the relatively new tutelage of Gus Miller, seems to have caught onto the trick of winning and have shoved defeat down the throats of three of their last fourth opponents. The fourth opponent, Texas Mines, almost became a Maroon and White victim as the Buffaloes scored three times in the last half before falling 26-20.
